Since it is my first time in Japan, I only know it from books that we study in school. Having visited a lot of places for the past few days, I ~~discovered~~ am much in awe of the things I've seen and discovered here in Japan. I will truly treasure all the things and experiences I had here in Japan.

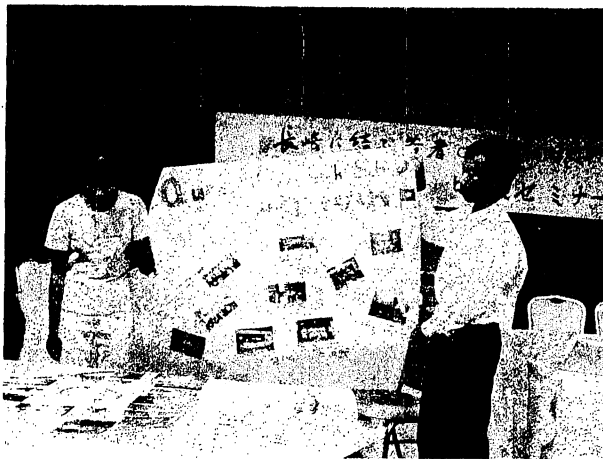

As we toured Japan, walked up & down hills, got on and off trains, as well as braved the heat, we came to discover a place of beautiful sights, a rich culture and gracious people. Truly, our six days in Japan were six days we will never forget. After all has been said and done, Japan has become one country we have come to love.

Japan has long been a place I have wanted to visit and finally on July 27th my dream came true. I don't think I can describe my feelings in just a few words because words are just inadequate. Thank you so much for organizing this seminar. Thank you to all the Japanese!

I saw many things in Japan. Especially what was the most impressive thing was Nagasaki Atomic Bomb Museum. This seminar is more meaning than I expected. If I have a chance I want to come to Japan again.

I think that we have forgotten importance of peace. I believe this is a good time to realize importance of peace. I hope we do our best to keep the peace.
